

Twitter posts by Terry McAuliffe's "great friend" Dr. Wes Bellamy

Virginia State University Political Science Department Chairman Dr. Wes Bellamy wielded the words "faggot" or "faggots" 101 times in his Twitter feed between September 4, 2009, and November 30, 2012. After these and many other explicit, racist, sexist, and gay-hating terms surfaced in November 2016, Bellamy apologized and then resigned from the Virginia State Board of Education. Then-governor Terry McAuliffe said he was "horrified" by his appointee's rhetoric. Regardless, Democrat gubernatorial candidate McAuliffe now calls Bellamy "a great friend" and embraced him in an October 24 Instagram video. A sample of Dr. Bellamy's shocking language follows -- verbatim, uncorrected, and uncensored:
